JustWorld International celebrated 15 years of change at this year's Gala, bringing together close to 600 equestrians. JustWorld turned Wellington into "Welliwood." After adding the combined attendance at the projects over the past 15 years. JustWorld has reached more than 40,000 children, providing opportunities for students to pursue careers and high education, thanks to their network of international equestrians. This year alone, JustWorld has given more than 6,500 children the tools they need to finish primary school and served more than 200,000 meals. Way to go JustWorld!
