Equestrian and designer Ariana Rockefeller and the Longines Masters of New York announced a new limited-edition saddle bag to celebrate the one-of-a-kind, prestigious indoor show jumping and luxury lifestyle event. Combining the best of equestrian sports, high-end shopping, delectable cuisine and nightly musical performances, the Longines Masters of New York will ride into New York for its debut event on April 26–29, 2018, at NYCB Live, home of the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum. Made of classic canvas and trimmed in grain leather, the Ariana Rockefeller for Longines Masters saddle bag is available in two colors and reflects the smooth leather curves and buckles of a saddle, complete with an embossed logo on the inside pocket. The bag, produced in Manhattan, will come in a sleek Longines Masters dust bag with the brand's signature horse icon. The 100-bag limited edition line can be purchased at www.arianarockefeller.com and will be sold online and exclusively on-site at the Longines Masters of New York. Tickets for the 2018 Longines Masters of New York are available now on NYCBlive.com or ticketmaster.com. For full information on the event, visit www.longinesmasters.com.

“Art of the Horse” is a community art project created and managed by Our Carolina Foothills, a nonprofit organization dedicated to educating the public about the uniqueness of Landrum, Tryon, Columbus, Saluda — four towns located close together in North and South Carolina. A kick-off “Adoption Party” will be held on Saturday, March 24th from 4–6pm at Caitlyn Farms in Mill Spring, North Carolina. This will be an opportunity for press and community to meet this year’s selected artists as well as the generous sponsors. Tickets to this event are either by invitation or by limited availability through eventbrite.com.
