In their first FEI-level show together, U.S. Paralympic rider Sydney Collier and her new horse All In One placed fifth overall in the Adequan®/USEF Para Dressage CPEDI3* National Championship in Tryon, North Carolina, September 13-15. They also were members of the U.S. Para Dressage team that won the Nations Cup over the Canadian team. "We all knew it was in him, but seeing how consistent he was in such a big, electric atmosphere was great," Sydney said. "He's completely embraced his job and enjoys it. It's a more special partnership than I can describe with words." Top U.S. show jumper Georgina Bloomberg purchased All In One in July to help support Sydney in her goal to be selected for the U.S. team at the 2020 Tokyo Paralympic Games. "It's fantastic to see Sydney doing so well with All In One," Georgina said. "I'm extremely proud to be part of her journey. There's no one who loves representing the United States more than Sydney. She's always in red, white and blue, and I'm thrilled she was able to help the U.S. Para Dressage team secure a victory in addition to having such a great show as an individual."

Young show jumping professional Sloane Coles made her debut on a U.S. Equestrian senior Nations Cup team during the Spruce Meadows 'Masters' Tournament in Calgary, Alberta, on September 7. Sloane, 31, rode Chippendale's Boy DZ, a 10-year-old Zangersheide gelding owned by The Springledge Group, to a five-fault score for the U.S. team, which finished eighth in the FEI Jumping Nations Cup CSIO5* Calgary, the richest Nations Cup in North America.

"Sloane had a great round," said U.S. Chef d'Equipe Robert Ridland. "She really rode the pants off that horse. It's a new combination, and they did a really good job." Sloane operates Springledge, a training, sales and retirement farm in The Plains, Virginia. The former equitation star is a 2011 graduate from Drew University (New Jersey) and has worked with top trainers such as John and Beezie Madden, Beacon Hill Show Stables, Johnny and Kitty Barker, and Heritage Farm.

Prominent Wellington real estate broker Martha W. Jolicoeur will sponsor the Leading Lady Rider Award at the Royal Horse Show in Toronto, Canada, from November 1-10. Part of the 97th Annual Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, the Royal Horse Show showcases the very best in horse sport and entertainment. Martha has supported the Leading Lady Rider Award at the Winter Equestrian Festival in Wellington, Florida, for nine years and this year decided to expand to the Royal Horse Show. "Equestrian sport is the only Olympic discipline where men and women compete against each other, and I enjoy recognizing the women who rise to the top among some of the best riders in the world," said Martha, who was a competitive amateur rider in her own right. "The Leading Lady Rider Award was my favorite to try and win when I was competing, so it's a very special opportunity to present the Leading Lady Rider Award to a
