World-renowned veterinary facility Palm Beach Equine Clinic will return as the Official Veterinary Practice of the 2020 Winter Equestrian Festival (WEF) and Adequan® Global Dressage Festival (AGDF) running January 8–March 29 at the Palm Beach International Equestrian Center (PBIEC) in Wellington, Florida. The expertise and dedication of Palm Beach Equine Clinic’s veterinarians will be available to all competing horses at WEF and AGDF thanks to a state-of-the-art clinic and an annex office located adjacent to the WEF stabling office on the PBIEC show grounds. Palm Beach Equine Clinic veterinarians are on call at the annex office daily to assist competitors with diagnostic evaluations and treatments, as well as emergency and standard horse care needs. Palm Beach Equine Clinic’s goal is to provide a definite diagnosis and not have to refer a case, making it the equivalent of the Mayo Clinic for horses. To make Palm Beach Equine Clinic a part of your team this winter, visit www.equineclinic.com or call 561-793-1599.

Riders at the Garrison Forest School in Owings Mills, Maryland, will enjoy a clinic with show jumping athlete Aaron Vale thanks to their winning entry in the Washington International Horse Show (WIHS) Barn Night Video Contest, sponsored by BarnManager. Area equestrian groups, barns and schools were invited to submit a video that fit the 2019 WIHS Barn Night theme of “Halloween on Horseback,” with the large field of entries then narrowed down to three prize recipients. The Garrison Forest School earned the grand prize clinic with Aaron, sponsored by BarnManager, thanks to its “Halloween Shenanigans” submission. The top three video entries can be viewed at www.BarnManager.com/blog.

Days End Farm Horse Rescue (DEFHR), a non-profit facility in Woodbine, Maryland, which recently celebrated its 30-year anniversary, has received accreditation from the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance (TAA) for its success in providing Thoroughbreds with aftercare, rehabilitation and retraining. TAA-accredited organizations undergo a thorough application and inspection process prior to accreditation being awarded to ensure they meet the TAA’s Code of Standards, which covers five key areas: operations, education, horse health care management, facility standards and services, and adoption policies and protocols. “The process isn’t easy, and every accredited organization should be proud to reach these high standards of operation,” said TAA President Mike Meuser. Laura Kraut finally added the President’s Cup title to her riding resume at the 61st annual Washington International Horse Show (WIHS), presented by MARS Equestrian™. Riding Fleurette, Laura jumped to victory in the $136,300 Longines FEI Jumping World Cup™ Washington, presented by Events DC for the President’s Cup, on the final night of the six-day horse show in the heart of Washington, D.C. “It’s been a class that I wanted to win for many, many years,” said the Olympic team gold medalist who placed fifth in the 2018 class riding Confu. “I think I’ve been jumping in the international division at WIHS since the late ‘80s. I’ve had quite a few seconds and thirds and fourths, but the win just always seemed to elude me. I said at the beginning of the week, ‘I think this is going to be my week.’” Laura first competed at WIHS in 1978 in the pony hunter divisions.
