The Genns Steal the Show in $50,000 WEC Wilmington Grand Prix

It was another week of the Fall Show Series at the World Equestrian Center – Wilmington, but the grand prix winner was still named Genn. In the third week, it was Wilhelm Genn of Lebanon, Ohio, taking the victory with his own Bugatti, a 15-year-old KWPN gelding (Heartbreaker x Pilot) in a 16-horse jump-off.

Genn recently became a grandfather, as his son Ryan (last week's grand prix winner) and wife Melany had a son Felix recently. "This was my first Grand Prix win as an Opa," he exclaimed. "How exciting is that? I can't wait to tell Felix when he gets older, that I beat his dad when he was just three weeks old! As for Bugatti, he jumped great. I want to make sure this horse has fun! He's won a lot and we know that he is capable. I want to keep the competition interesting for him."

Ryan Genn finished second with VDL Gerinus T, while Gustavo Prato and Luke Skywalker 70 placed third.

Havens Schatt and Cascartini Take $30,000 Derby Win

Havens Schatt of Lexington, Kentucky, and Cascartini (Casall Ask x Wilora), the nine-year-old Holsteiner gelding owned by Ken and Amy Wexler LLC, stood above the rest to win the $30,000 WEC Hunter Derby 3'6"-3'9". Their first-round score of 185 and second handy round score of 193 gave them a final score of 378 and victory.

"Cascartini hasn't jumped, but maybe once, since the Derby Finals in August," said Schatt. "I wasn't planning on showing him until we went back to Florida, but one of my clients wanted to come up here. I saw that there would be a $30,000 Derby so he came with us too. It can be hard for our whole barn to get away, but we love showing at both WEC locations."

Morgan Ward and Comissario placed second with a total of 376.75, and Isabel M. Harbour rode Fitz to third place on a score of 375.
