Back-to-Back Grand Prix Wins for Beisel

In the $30,000 World Equestrian Center Grand Prix, David Beisel of Goshen, Ohio, won riding his own Essince W, a 12-year-old KWPN gelding by Chacco-Blue x Burggraaf NV at the World Equestrian Center (WEC) Midwest Indoors II show on Saturday, November 20, 2021, at the World Equestrian Center in Wilmington, Ohio. It was the second grand prix victory in a row for Beisel and Essince W.

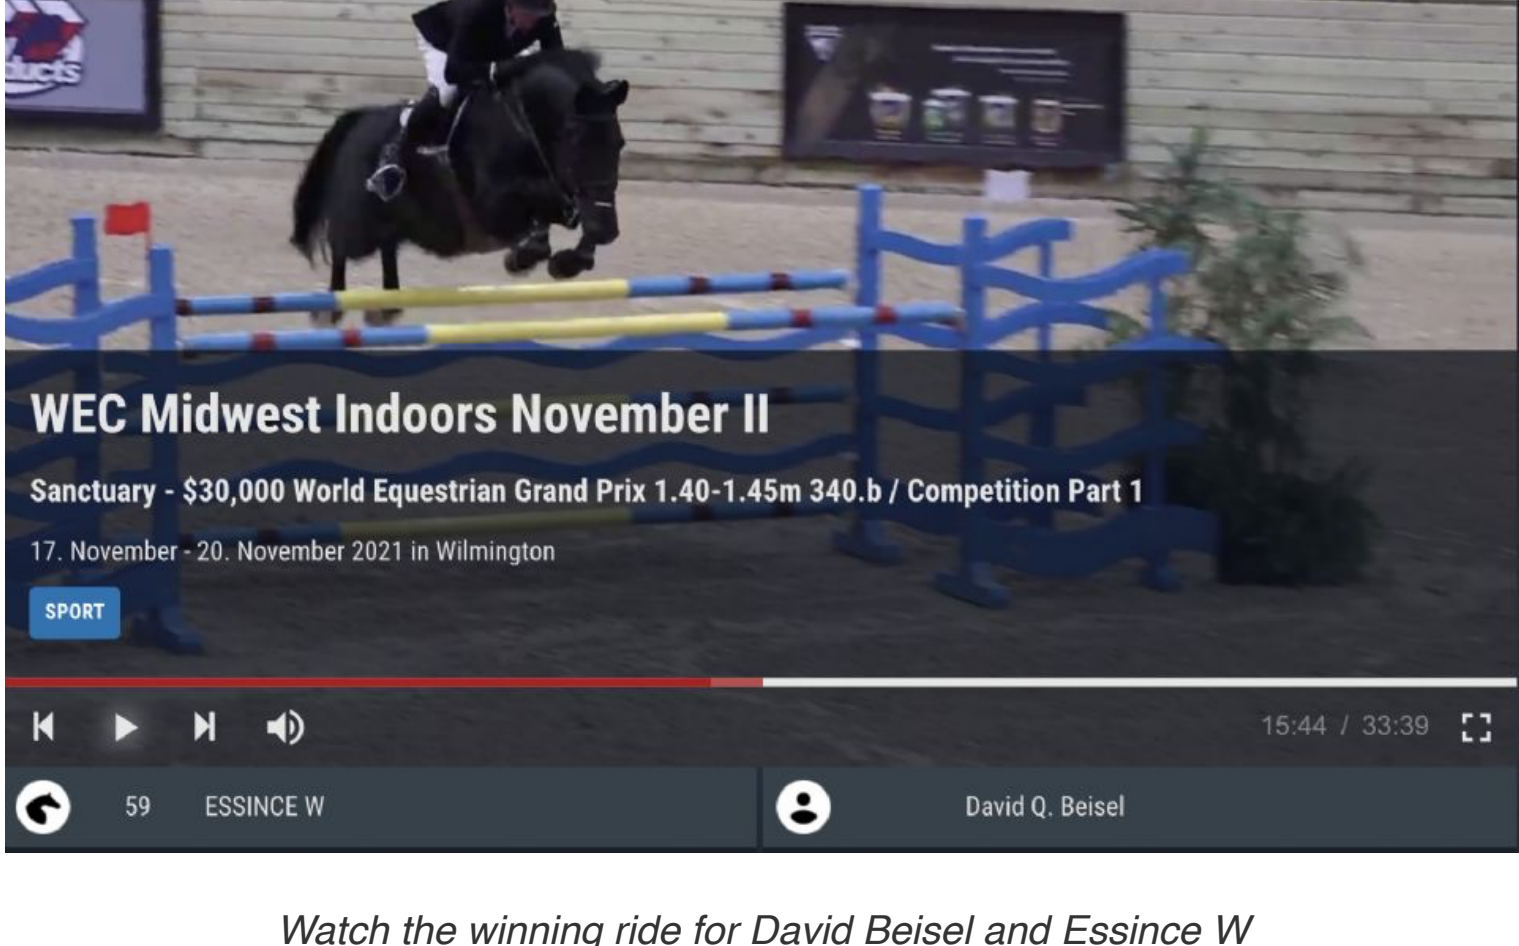

Just two riders jumped clear to advance to the jump-off and in an unusual situation, Michael D. Burnett finished second after electing to withdraw his horse, Chagrاند, from the jump-off. David Beisel on Essince W entered the ring but he did not complete the jump-off course, choosing instead to save his horse for another day yet ultimately taking the grand prix win. Molly Kindness and Strawberry placed third.

"The course rode how it walked, but on my first horse the bending eight [strides] was tough," said Beisel. "My first horse is more green, and we got there a little early. It was an advantage for Essince to ride after him, because I had a new game plan in mind. Essince has a lot more seasoning than my other two entries, so he was able to complete the trickier parts of the course with more ease."

In a field of 22 competitors, Kelsey Epperson and Didgereedoo VDL, owned by Tammy Nimbach, were the winners in the $5,000 WEC Hunter Derby 3' – Open. With a score of 92 in the first round, Epperson and the striking 13-year-old Dutch Warmblood gelding returned for a handy score of 89 and an overall score of 181.

"I thought that today's course was hard and when I saw it on the course sheet, I got pretty nervous," admitted Epperson. "I trust this horse, and he is always there for me to count on. Once we jumped the first two jumps, then I knew we were okay. He did them both perfectly and was so smooth around everything!"

Grand prix winner Beisel put on his hunter gear to claim the next two spots in the class, finishing second with Lori Taylor's MTM Bentley with a total score of 180 and third with her horse Steller, which had a total of 173.
