

Movie Villains, Classic Video Games And Sainly Ponies

Story And Photos By Kimberly Loushin

When the final day of the Washington International Horse Show, held Oct. 26-31 in Mill Spring, North Carolina, fell on Halloween it seemed only fitting to add some festivities in the form of the Halloween Pony Hunt Teams. Ribbons were award in each pony size, and there was an overall award for best costume, which went to the Call Me Cruella team, comprised of Hailey Guidry (Benjamin Buttons), Pippa Mercer (Clovermeade Pop Secret) and Lily Epstein (Pepsi).

Lily Epstein and Pepsi were part of the Call Me Cruella team that won blue for the small ponies as well as best costume.

Olivia Sweetnam and On The Mark earned the reserve championship in the medium ponies and returned as a ringmaster and elephant for The Greatest Showman team.

Caitlyn Hill and Good Reason dressed as witches, complete with broomstick, for the large pony hunt teams.

Reagan Jarrett and Dream Big were Tootsie Rolls as part of team I Want Candy.
