World Equestrian Center Winter in the Midwest XVII

Kady Abrahamson, a former student of David Beisel, and her own Banco du Moulin captured the top prize in the $50,000 'Ride for David' Grand Prix.

"I came here hungry for a grand prix win; all of this is for David! We're donating a majority of the prize money back to him and his family, and we are so happy that he is doing well in recovery."

Oakley Clark and his own Billy Irish claimed top honors in the $10,000 USHJA National Hunter Derby 3' Open.

"He is the bravest horse ever and that really shined through. I gave him my full trust to gallop right at the scarier jumps, and he was perfect. I knew he would look through the bridle and march right to some of these more impressive jumps."

Kevin McCarthy and Keely O'Hara's Honey Girl won the $15,000 WEC Futures Prix.

"We just got this mare around Christmas time, and she surely is showing that she will have a big bright future ahead."

The response from the equestrian community to the $50,000 'Ride for David' Grand Prix was extraordinary as entries poured in from all over the world. A record-breaking 404 entries were nominated to ride, and a total of $341,700 was raised for David Beisel and his family. The order of go included Olympians, well-known stallions, several hunters, beloved ponies, a pet pig and even the horse that David won his first Grand Prix on. It is truly humbling to witness the equestrian community join together to support an amazing horseman, friend, husband and father. Thank you to all, and WEC invites you to continue supporting David on his road to recovery.
