Highlights From World Equestrian Center – Wilmington Fall Classic III

Rowan Willis (AUS) and his own Blue Movie were victorious in the $75,000 Grand Prix.

“With ‘Carrots’ [Blue Movie] as my last to go, as long as all of the jumps stay up, she is normally the fastest. She has a really big step, and I am always just trying to contain it. She did the six stride to the five stride quite easily.”

Greg Crolick and Testify, owned by Jon Cotton, captured the top prize in the $15,000 USHJA National Hunter Derby. The pair earned high scores of 88.5 and 90.

“Testify was thankfully right there for me. He is a great horse to have. We have had him for almost a year. He did the Platinum Performance/USHJA Interntaional Hunter Derby Finals and then won a derby in Traverse City just last month.”

Kyle Perkovich and his own Rarity won the $10,000 Futures Prix.

“The course was very challenging, and it really forced us to know where we were going every step of the way. By the time I did my third horse, I thought I had a good feel for it. I loved the course. The lines were great, and it was super sturdy everywhere. It was a very consistent feel.”

This week’s Wilmington Sunday Spotlight shines on Kendall Meijer of Grand Rapids, MI. With her two striking geldings, Meijer can be found with Meadowview Farms at both World Equestrian Center locations competing in the Adult Amateur Hunters and the Amateur-Owner Hunters. The skilled amateur rider has taken this competition season to re-center and find the joy in the sport again. We caught up with Meijer in between rounds to learn more about her career.
