

WORDLEY MARTIN
CELEBRATES 2023 PROJECTS

Wordley Martin, a leading developer of equestrian properties and premier riding surfaces, celebrates the end of another banner year thanks to the completion of projects ranging from personalized private arenas to large-scale venue renovation. As 2024 approaches, the Wordley Martin team looks forward to creating an ideal riding environment for more equestrians across North America.

PRIVATE ARENAS

Nicole Walker
Canadian International
Show Jumper
Adena Springs
Wellington, FL
120' x 250' arena

Georgina Bloomberg
U.S. International
Show Jumper
Gotham Enterprizes
South
Wellington, FL
32,613 square-foot
reconstruction

Will Coleman
U.S. Olympic Eventer
Chapel Springs
Farm
Free Union, VA
265'x150' arena
featuring an underneath watering
system

SPECIALTY VENUES

HITS-on-the-Hudson
Saugerties, NY

More than 205,000 square-feet
of arena renovation
Resurfaced Grand Prix Stadium
Former Diamond Mills Ring transformed into new grand prix schooling ring
Refreshed footing in Main Hunter Ring
Redesigned premier competition arena, THE Ring

"The rings are spectacular. The grand prix warmup area and the Grand Prix Stadium are state-of-the-art, as good as they can be. As riders and horse owners, we can't ask for better conditions."
– Daniel Bluman, winner of the $300,000 FEI Grand Prix CSI4*

"The grounds are totally different. The footing is amazing. Sharn and Craig has done an amazing job, and our clients are very happy."
– Michael Desiderio, winner of the $10,000 USHJA National Hunter Derby

HITS Post Time Farm
Ocala, FL

More than 225,000 square-feet
of arena reconstruction
Completely redesigned Grand Prix Arena and Main Hunter Arena with updated drainage system Rebuilt grand prix and main hunter schooling arenas with streamlined access to competition rings Iconic granddaddy oak trees balanced, trimmed, and showcased with curbed grass areas

"It's a fantastic place now. The footing is excellent – it was a really good improvement. Now you can go fast, do short turns, and the horses never slip."
– Santiago Lambre, winner of the 2023 $75,000 Joan Pletcher Real Estate Grand Prix

"I really like the footing here, and over bigger fences, I thought the ground would be perfect for my horse. He certainly jumped like he thought it was perfect too!"
– Aaron Vale, winner of the 2023 $100,000 Alliant Private HITS Client Grand Prix

IN THE MEDIA

Read All News

About Wordley Martin

Wordley Martin provides equestrian arena architecture, construction, installation, and footing products to create a personalized, ideal riding environment. Founded by international grand prix riders Sharn Wordley and Craig Martin, Wordley Martin has installed more than 450 arenas throughout the United States and has become the choice of top athletes and owners from the Olympic disciplines of show jumping, eventing, and dressage who value Wordley Martin's exceptionally high standard of execution. Whether it be for a traditional outdoor arena, covered arena, indoor arena, or gallop track, Wordley Martin's unique sand mixture, incorporating textiles and fibers, results in a dust-free surface to ideally support every impact. Learn more at www.WordleyMartin.com.