Take a Peek Inside

Fox Ridge Farms: Where Innovation Meets Equestrian Sport

Our cover story highlights Foxridge Farms, located in Columbus, Ohio, and Ocala, Florida. Since 2016, owner Kathy Dixon has entrusted professional Canadian show jumping athlete Sean Jobin in guiding a string of high-caliber horses to success. Behind the scenes at Foxridge Farms, Jobin emphasizes athletic innovation and collaborates closely with sports scientist Dr. Tim Worden to optimize success both in and out of the ring.

Junior Rider Focus: Elaina Davis

Our Junior Rider Focus showcases Elaina Davis, the victorious rider of the 2022 WEC Medal Final at World Equestrian Center – Wilmington. Davis talks about her major triumph and deep connection with her 14-year-old Oldenburg x Hanoverian mare, Zuri, that helped aid in her victory. She also reveals her aspirations, dreams within the sport and looks forward to the next chapters in her riding career.

24 Hours in the Life of Peter Petschenig

We spent 24 Hours with Peter Petschenig, an international show jumping trainer and athlete from Austria. Petschenig is self-taught and self-made. He began his career on the neighbor's naughty pony and worked his way through the levels at show barns riding any horse that he could. When he made the leap to the United States, he settled in California and met his wife, Nathalie. Together, they now run a successful boarding and training business in Collinsville, Texas, and travel the country competing, with World Equestrian Center – Ocala as a primary destination.

Cheryl White: America's First Black Female Jockey

Make history come alive and find inspiration in the "Cheryl White Rider, Horse, and Book Set" from Breyer®. This set is designed to captivate the hearts of horse enthusiasts, young or old, by introducing them to the remarkable story of America's first Black female jockey, Cheryl White, and her chestnut Thoroughbred, Jetolara.
