

Plan a Day Out at Days End

Meet the horses of DEFHR!

Are you making plans for this summer? Whether you have family visiting from out of town or you're simply looking for something fun and free to do, be sure to add a visit to Days End Farm Horse Rescue (DEFHR) to your list.

Located in Woodbine, Maryland, DEFHR is open for drop-in tours every day, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. There is no need to call ahead or book — just stop by for a tour of our farm, hear the stories of the horses we have rehabilitated, and see our staff members and volunteers in action. We would love to meet you and your family!

DEFHR's Amazon Wishlist

DEFHR staff are frequently asked which items are currently most in need at the farm. To simplify the process of donating critical equipment and supplies, DEFHR has set up an Amazon Wishlist that is kept up-to-date with the rescue center's biggest needs.

Donations made from this wish list are tax deductible. Please include your name and address in order to receive a donation receipt. Donations can be shipped directly to Days End Farm Horse Rescue, 1372 Woodbine Road, Woodbine, MD 21797, or you are welcome to deliver donations in person and enjoy a tour of the farm any day between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Transformation Treasure: Valiant Victor

Valiant Victor arrived at DEFHR in need of rehabilitation in October 2023. Check out Victor's remarkable transformation, just six months later. He is now ready for adoption and is sure to bring a lot of joy and laughs to your barn. If you are looking for a chilled-out older companion to keep your horses company and to keep a smile on your face, inquire about Victor today.

Horse Network

"How a Horse Rescue Center's Youth Volunteer Program Enriches the Lives of Equines — and Children"

Did you know that DEFHR offers a host of youth volunteer opportunities? The programs offer a way to experience every aspect of horse care and management through its immersive youth volunteer programs. Children and young people can become valued members of the DEFHR team.

"The program offers a unique opportunity to get hands-on with rescue horses, become leaders in their community, shadow staff members, and learn about different animal welfare-related careers," explains DEFHR's community outreach liaison Nicky Wetzelberger.

The volunteer program for children starts at age five, and older volunteers can help in many different areas including education, horse care, training, and outreach.

Featured Horse of the Month: Iffy

Three-year-old Thoroughbred gelding

Do you dream of bringing up a youngster for groundwork, liberty, or therapy work? In the right hands, Iffy could be all of those things! Unfortunately, he was born with contracted tendons that were not treated at an appropriate time, so he is offered as a non-riding companion. He would be suitable for a home where he can still receive the appropriate education needed to be a good equine citizen. Iffy is a sweet boy; he loves attention and recently started working on some basic groundwork.

If you think yours may be the home for him, please email adopt@DEFHR.org for further details or use the links below.
